Epiphany of The Lord, Year B*

Dear Parishioners, dear friends,

St Gregory Nazianzen, honoured as a Doctor of the Church, wrote that at the very moment when the Magi fell to their knees and adored Jesus, astrology came to an end. His reasoning was that, in the ancient world, the stars and the planets were regarded as divine powers, determining human fate. These heavenly bodies (many of which, bear the names of deities) somehow ruled over the world and governed the course of human history.

But now, at the moment when a star, a thing created by God, so obviously served the purposes of God by bringing wise men to the child Jesus, it is Christ himself (God from God, Light from Light) who is truly revealed as the divine power towards which everything leads.

Last Tuesday, as we celebrated the feast of St Gregory Nazianzen, Bishop Richard launched the third edition of his Pastoral Plan, 'The Word who is Life'. The sub-title of this Plan is: 'The Call to Mission'. That call to be missionary disciples is a consequence of our Baptism; a responsibility that is placed on every Christian. The plan is available on the diocesan website and I will address its details and challenges on 21 January and over the season of Lent.

On this day, we hear much talk of the star, by which the Magi were led to Christ. What matters for us, is that, in St Matthew's Gospel, the star is the means by which these wise men were led to Jesus. The symbolism of the star extends to us, today. For there is real truth in the idea that 'the Church carries out the mission of the star for all humanity'; for, at the heart of the mission entrusted to each of us, but virtue of our baptism, is the privilege and challenge of being called to show others the way to find Christ by word and example of life.

With my prayers, gratitude and affectionate good wishes Fr Richard

ORDER OF MALTA – APPEAL FOR UKRAINE

This is the work the Order has carried out for centuries and is recognised in the surrounding regions as a trusted frontline provider.

These are the people who need our help now!

BASMOM through our Foreign Aid Service (FAS) is seeking donations towards the Order's frontline care in Ukraine and in the surrounding countries.
