SECOND SUNDAY OF EASTER
Divine Mercy

Like newborn infants, you must long for the pure, spiritual milk, that in him you may grow to salvation, alleluia.

Confessions: By appointment and before and after the Saturday Masses at Molesey & Hersham.

WELCOME TO MASS Readings and prayers are found in the Parish Missals for The Second Sunday of Easter, Year B

My dear Parishioners, dear friends

The introit for today's Mass quotes from the First Epistle of St Peter, 'Like new born babes, you must long for the pure spiritual milk, that in Him you may grow to salvation.' The Sunday is often called Quasi modo Sunday, the first words of our introit in Latin. More recently, we have called this Sunday Divine Mercy.

Over these lovely Easter Days we have listened to the words of Jesus in simple phrases. The risen Lord has spoken to our hearts. Greetings, he has said, It is I we have heard, Do not be afraid,....With Mary he has called our name. With Thomas he has addressed our doubts. Peace he has wished us...And he has even told us to break our fast and feast on Him.

This we have learnt to do. Over many of years of practice for many of us we have heard the Lord speak in the gospel and we have been fed by Him in the Eucharist.

Even when faith was weak and perhaps a little half hearted, we have remained faithful. Even when love was cool, we have found the cooling embers of affection and asked the Holy Spirit to fan them. With the Lord's own companions, our companions, on the road to Emmaus we have said: Did not our hearts have burned within us, as He talked to us....

Today we have a word for Him, a phrase of such simplicity, such tenderness. A phrase built on love which can only be spoken in love. It is a phrase of abandonment and adoration, for we are those who say 'My Lord and God'. Our sadnesses and sorrows, our darkness and doubt are dispelled.

Divine Mercy shines again, the radiance of the risen Christ, and we are raised up and our eyes meet the eyes of the Lord.

Mary, Mother of Mercy, help us always to have this trust in your Son, our Redeemer. Fixing our gaze on the divine Saviour's face.

With my prayers and affectionate good wishes
Fr Richard

A WORD OF THANKS

I would like to thank you for your support, kindness and generosity to me. As you know the Easter and Christmas collection (that is the money you give on those feast days) make up the substantial part of my personal allowance. It's not taken for granted and I'm very grateful.

Thank you, on behalf of us all, to those who care for the churches and for the liturgy and for the business of the parish. You are a small but dedicated and happy band and I thank God for you.

May God who raised Christ from the dead bless us all this Easter.

Bishop Richard has launched the third edition of his Pastoral Plan, 'The Word who is Life' at the beginning of this new year. The sub-title of this Plan is: The Call to Mission. That call to be missionary disciples is a consequence of our Baptism; a responsibility that is placed on every Christian. The plan is available on the diocesan website.
